

Erasmus+ teacher training

- join a course with one of the video education leaders in Europe

"Video production to support language learning" @Kulturring Berlin, Germany

17th October 2015 - 24th October 2015 (including travel)

Course number: erasmus_2015_103

What is the course about?

The European course will give a wide range of ideas how you can include the active use of video within your language lessons. You will get ideas, pedagogical and digital video production support in order to facilitate your students to get this exiting work.

The course will be hands on - explore fascinating places of the historical and new Berlin with a video camera. Joint discussions will make sure that we can find the best ideas for your specific teaching environment. The course is based on our experience with video language projects such as www.divisproject.eu, www.speechbubbles.net, www.popullar.eu and Video for ALL. We offer European teacher training since 2002.

Who is the course for?

The course is open for all teachers, teacher trainers, head teachers, teaching assistants and curriculum developers from across Europe.

Where does the course help?

The ideas offered are close to your students' interests (just think of how popular YouTube is among young people), will bring in new motivation to learn a foreign language and also support independent learning. The ideas are based on working in small teams within realistic video projects. They can also contribute to your school development especially in the area of ICT.

Course programme

Sunday, 18th October 2015 > European Film & Media Workshop: presentations and exchanges

Monday, 19th October 2015 > Photo Stories: Proverbs (Berlin Wall)

Tuesday, 20th October 2015 > Drama workshop (with puppets)

Wednesday, 21st October 2015 > Creating music clips (PopuLLar project)

Thursday, 22nd October 2015 > News programmes (produce a news article)

Friday, 23rd October 2015 > Web2.0 overview (streaming, embedding) and course wrap up

Course leaders

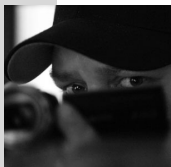

Armin Hottmann, background in professional TV production, MA in Media Education (University of London), coordinated video education projects since 1991 and EU projects since 1999. Has taught at the Faculty of Education, Humboldt University Berlin. Founder and Head of the Kulturring Media Education Department since 1996. Currently he is setting up a media school in Addis / Ethiopia.

armin.hottmann@mediaeducation.net

Felix Hawran, BA in Media, Literary and Cultural Studies, European project manager since 2010; has led several video education workshops across Europe and realized media projects in secondary schools; also working as a language teacher in Berlin.

felix.hawran@mediaeducation.net

Marco Jessat, vocational training in Media Production, specialized in film making and video editing; established film as a regular subject in a Berlin primary school where he currently also offers an internet course for kids.

marco.jessat@mediaeducation.net

Fees

Course fee: 420 Euro (fully paid through the Erasmus+ programme)

Accommodation and subsistence fee: 560 Euro (seven nights in a central  hotel and all meals during the workshop hours organised by us)

Application procedure

You will need to contact the National Agency in your country for more information. We can provide you with a provisional acceptance form if it is needed for your application.

Course provider and main location

Kulturring in Berlin e.V., Ernststr. 14-16, 12437 Berlin, Germany, phone ++49 30 53696534

Email: course@mediaeducation.net

Course page: <http://mediaeducation.net/index.php/training>

